

John Reed Hickox

John Hickox, class of 1979, is a senior partner with KPMG LLP, a global audit, tax and advisory firm. He has led several key accounts coordinating all of the firm's service offerings globally working with our offices abroad and has additionally served in various leadership positions – currently in the firm's Go-To-Market efforts. He has 37 years of consulting experience across many different industries with a key focus on financial and operational controls to drive accurate and quality information as well as operational improvement, revenue enhancement, cost reduction and CAPX optimization. John also built the US firm's Sustainability Services practice to focus on impactful corporate responsibility strategy and reporting. John has envisioned, secured, and delivered global engagements which have collectively resulted in hundreds of millions of dollars of positive margin impact.

John is based in the Atlanta, Georgia metro area where he lives with his wife Nina and children Austin & Devyn. He has a passion for working to drive not only a high performance culture but also to see that people manage from the heart and operate with integrity and meaning. He attributes this to his upbringing and the culture he experienced while attending Texas A&M University.

John is a CPA and serves as a founding board member of Trust in God / Lead Today, a non-profit organization in Colorado.
