Many Aggies, One World Podcast (Season 3)

- Our podcast series features Aggie students, staff, and faculty as they reflect upon their international experiences and the lessons they learned from them.
- It is dedicated to sharing the many international stories of the Aggie family.
- Since our initial launch in the Fall semester of 2020, we have had over 700 listens.
- For season 3, we are featuring:
  - Dr. Leslie Ruyle
  - Essynce Lewis

Available on Spotify and ITunes!
Fall Program

the intersection of the global and the local in environmental grassroots activism

Stream Clean
Saturday, Oct. 16
8a.m. CST, EHS parking lot

Chasing Coral
Documentary
Tuesday, Oct. 19
6p.m. CST, Rudder Forum

Environmental Grassroots
Activism Panel
Wednesday, Oct. 20
6:30p.m. CST, Rudder Theatre
Movie Screening: Chasing Coral

- Chasing Coral follows a team of divers, photographers and scientists out to photograph the elusive process of coral bleaching.
- Q&A after movie with:

  Dr. James W. Porter (science advisor for Chasing Coral) is the Josiah Meigs Distinguished Professor of Ecology, Emeritus at the University of Georgia. He has testified before Congress about the effects of climate change on coral reefs.

  Alyssa Schultz is a PhD student in the Department of Geography, Texas A&M University. Schultz will be traveling to several locations in Australia to further her research on deep-sea corals and collaborate with international leaders in coral reef sustainability and management.

  Dr. Brendan Roark is an Associate Professor in the Department of Geography at Texas A&M University. Dr. Roark is a paleoceanographer whose research emphasis is ocean and climate variability over the last 50,000 years.
Environmental Grassroots Activists Panel

Nanticha Ocharoenchai (Lynn) is an environmental writer, filmmaker and climate activist from Thailand, where she initiated the youth climate strike movement. Through storytelling, she writes for various NGOs and publications to inspire and enable communities, businesses and governments to create positive environmental change.

Blake Dyason is an environmental activist, outdoor enthusiast, entrepreneur, and ultra-athlete from South Africa. He is the founder of Love Our Trails, an organization that aims to protect the environment by connecting people to nature, and he has organized over 500 cleanups in 12 African countries. He is also a 2021 recipient of the Mandela Washington Fellowship for Young African Leaders.

Nalleli Hidalgo is the Community Outreach and Education Liaison for T.E.J.A.S. (Texas Environmental Justice Advocacy Services), an organization which promotes environmental protection for all communities, regardless of race or socioeconomic status, through community building and education on environmental issues, policies, and laws.

The moderator, Dr. Leslie Ruelle, is a Research Scientist in the Department of International Affairs at the Bush School of Government & Public Service. She is an ecologist working across disciplines to create innovative solutions for conservation, conflict, and development.
L.T. Jordan Fellows

- 2020-2021: Fellows program adapted to pandemic by offering U.S.-based international research
  - Amirpooya Dardashti: Qatar
  - Wah Wah Myint: India, Indonesia, Phillipines, Papau-New Guinea, and Timor Leste
  - Michael Portal: France
  - Alyssa Shultz: Australia
- 2021-2022: First round of applications passed, and our proposal deadline is upcoming.
Internship and Living Abroad

- Application deadline upcoming
- Internship and Living Abroad programs adapted to pandemic by offering the following countries:
  - Santiago, Chile
  - London, England
  - Singapore
  - Seville, Spain

Apply at ltjordan.tamu.edu

Internships Abroad

Applications due October 29th at 5 p.m.

Chile China England Singapore Spain

In the belief that firsthand experience in another country is the best way to achieve international awareness, the MSC LT. Jordan Institute sponsors Internship and Living Abroad Programs (ILAP) for Texas A&M University students. The Jordan Institute arranges all of the logistics, including round-trip airfare, housing with host families, excursions, health insurance, meals, and non-compensatory work experience that relates to the student's academic and career interests. These are 6-week summer internships in Chile, China, England, Singapore, and Spain. Students work with a company that aligns with their major and interests while gaining applicable experience and a necessary global education.

Application Requirements & Deadlines:
- Have one semester left at Texas A&M after program
- Have at least a 2.25 GPA

Application at ltjordan.tamu.edu
- Due: Last Friday of October
International Service Program

- Application deadline upcoming
- Programs adapted to pandemic by offering the following countries:
  - Belize
  - Costa Rica
Student Development